This Fourth Sunday of Lent, often called Laetare Sunday, invites us to rejoice because the light of Christ is already breaking into our Lenten journey. In the Gospel, Jesus heals the man born blind. While the man gradually comes to see both physically and spiritually, the Pharisees remain blind in heart. The message is clear: true sight is not only about our eyes, but about faith. St. Paul reminds us, "You were once darkness, but now you are light in the Lord." Lent is a time when the Lord gently opens our eyes, to our sins, to His mercy, and to the needs of others around us. As we continue toward Easter, we might ask ourselves: Where is the Lord inviting me to see more clearly? What spiritual blindness is He asking me to surrender?

May Christ, the Light of the World, lead us from darkness into His marvelous light.
